VERDICT FOR $8,302.88.

fleavy Damages Given for a Death at Grade Crossing. Scranton, Oct. 1 .- The jury in the case of Mrs. Mary Roberts against the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company yester-day retiened a verdict in favor of Mrs. Roberts for $8,302.88. This is the second largest verdict ever given in Lack-awanna county for damages where a person was killed.

Mrs. Roberts sued to recover $50,000 damages for the death of her husband Hugh Roberts who received fatal injuries at the Carbon street crossing of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company in this

The crossing is very dangerous, and at the time of the accident which resulted in Hugh Roberts' death the watchman neglected to lower the gates.

Roberts was driving a lumber wagon, and seeing the gates up concluded that the crossing was safe and drove on. He was run down by a passenger train, and so se-verely injured that he died soon after-ward.

DR. McLAREN'S ADDRESS.

The hynn "Our Country's Voice is Pleading" was sung, and then Rev. Dr. James McLaren, pastor of the church, delivered an address of welcome. It was a pleasing speech with an informal flavor to it. It touched on the magnitude of the work which had been done by the society, and of the mightiness of the labors which remained to be accomplished.

Incidentally be introduced some remarks against the evils of intemperance, and hoped that the time was not far distant when the power of the liquor monster would be broken and when hearts and hearths would be purified. He did not pletely so.

"Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" was sung, and the reports of the corresponding tecretary, recording secretary, treasurer and treasurer of the contingent fund were

and treasurer of the contingent fund were read and approved.*

The report of the treasurer showed that the cash received from all sources during the year was $4.465.85, and the raise of the supplies received for the same period $861.85, making a total of $5.327.70.

SPLENDID PINANCIAL REPORT.

This showing was commented upon as gratifying. The president thought that God had been especially favorable to their cause and had smiled upon their efforts. She called for the Poxology, which was sung. Miss Ida O'Neal sang an agreeable solo, and an address was made by Mrs. A. C. Jenett on "Bee Hives"—contribution boxes which she had caused to be distributed. The results had been better than the friends of the plan had hoped. Mrs. W. P. Hepburn spoke on the utility of "Reading Circles," and Miss A. E. Matthews, a missionary, told of the "Immigrant Girls' Home." Singing followed, and after benefiction came lunch.

LADIES WERE DELIGHTED. Display at the Bon Marche's Opening Just to Their Liking.

A Times' reporter found great difficulty in wedging his way yesterday through the crowd at the "Bon Marche," which was attracted by the annual fall opening of that well-known establishment.

The display of hats on the second floor was one of the most notable features of the opening, and attracted possibly the most attention. Over six hundred Parisian novelties in this line were exhibited.

The proprietors of the "Bon Marche" claim to carry the most extensive line of ladies' hats and bonnets of any firm in the National Capital.

Another display which attracted a great deal or attention was the cellection of ladies' and misses' cloaks on the first floor. The display of furs was also quite a feature, and the only thing which seemed necessary to satisfy the new woman at the "Bon Marche" opening was a full pocket-book. CONVEYANCE WAS GOOD.

Court of Appeals Holds a Woman Can Pass a Title.

The court of appeals yesterday handed down an opinion in the suit of the heirs of Mary Ransom for the possession and partition of square 53. The decree of Junge Hagner in the case was affirmed. It was related that prior to the war Mrs. Ransom and her husband made a power of attorney to one Gibson Hunt to sell the property in question. It was sold about the close of the war to B. O. Tayloe, the deed being given by the attorney, but a deed was never obtained from Mrs. Ransom.

The question was whether a power of attorney executed by Mrs. Ransom was valid in the District of Columbia, it being contended that a married woman cannot convey real property by a power of attorney. Junge Hagner held that the conveyance was good, and the court of appeals sustained him under a Maryland statute. It was claimed that while it did not pass a legal title it passed an equitable one.

years been one of the most eccentric dress reformers of the country, and who has been arrested in many cities for appearing on the street in male attire, has a new scheme on hand looking to the advancement of the bloomer girl.

She has purchased a farm seven miles west of this city, containing 135 acres of land, upon which she proposes to form a colony—for females only. Those joining this colony must bind themselves to a life of celibacy so long as they remain members of the community, and must wear bloomers
for life.

SIDE SADDLES?—NIT!

The farm will be worked by the members,
who will plant and harvest the crops and take them to market. The horses on the place will not be furnished with side saiddles,
as the girls will ride astride.

Dr. Walker will personally look after the daily routine work, and will exercise her authority in all matters connected with the colony.

"We will all live in a large, commodious
farm house, for which I am having plans prepared," Dr. Walker informed me today, "Every member will have her own room. Portieres will take the place of

The cars attracted considerable attention, not only at the initial ami terminal points, but throughout the entire route.

On the car which left the general post-office at 5 o'clock to-day were Second Assistant Postmaster General Nellson, of Washington; R. C. Jackson, superintendent of the railway mall service; E. M. Morgan, general superintendent of the city delivery department. T. J. Clark, superintendent of malis, Heary E. Mack, assistant superintendent railway mail service; G. W. Wenger and Superintendent Eobertson, of the Third avenue railroad.

The working of the new mail cars or street post-offices, which they really are, was pronounced highly satisfactory by the officials on board.

The cars will run regularly week days and Sundays. A car will start from each terminal every baif hour, running north and south. Letters can be mailed on board the cars.

Few Americans are aware of the fact that if it were not for the little island of Sicily now there would be to lemons, nor are many aware of the great importance of this commerce and of its accessity to the United States. The production of lemons in America is so limited at the present time, both as regards quantity and sensons, that all of California's and Markets seeders do not summly 10 per and seasons, that an of camping and seasons, that an of camping 10 per cent of the country's needs after the months of August and September, when our domestic lemon crop matures, and but for Sicily we should be without any but for Sielly we should be without any lemons whatsoever, except for a few that Spain send us during the rest of the year. Accurate figures show that from September 10 to April 30 during the last five years the importations from Sielly have been about 1,260,000 toxes every year, each containing 300 lemons. This is equal to 360,000,000 lemons.

Civic Center Ought to Move to a Letter to Dr. Kent-One in Every Four Blocks. The meeting of the Center Council of

"My Dear Doctor: September is here and tells of the work to be done by our Civic Center. I have engagements which will take me out of Washington Mondays, will take me out of washington aromany, for several weeks, and so may interrupt my meeting with the Center Council, but I shall do what I can to push the work forward. I have written to Chairman Willits in regard to several matters which. I think, his committee should be ready to push forward, and I have planned letters to copie other chairman. I know that push forward, and I have planned letters to some other chairmen. I know that you will do whatever your hands find to do and with all your might.

"I have been glad to see the movements pending among the labor unions in reference to a library and reading room. This is, as you know, in the line of one of my favorite projects. But one library is not enough, unless it has branches in different parts of the town. Let us, by all means, have one good library, rich in all that our artisan classes need to read; but let us have branches, with reading rooms, so that each man will find within easy reach a place where he may spend his evenings so that each man winting winting a place where he may spend his evenings pleasantly and profitably.

"My ideal is an artisans' or 'good neighbors' club' in each four blocks of the city, with a room large enough to seat an audidience of at least 100, fitted up with two or three tables for readers and for games with attachiles and with amalindation. or three tables for readers and for games withoutgambling, and with asmall platform for familiar scientific and other lectures, and room for sociables, and with a smaller room for smokers, all to be warmed and lighted every evening of the week and open to both men and women, for the home sometimes grows dull and tiresome to the wives as well as to the husbands, all under wives as well as to the husbands, all under niments, as also with reading matter.

"I have thought that if your committee and those on athit education and on popular recreations could unite in this particular work, we might establish five such Good Neighbor Clubs this season in the different sections of the city as examples, and perhaps models."

and perhaps models.
"A small fee of five or ten cents a week or membership would give a feeling of ownership and furnish, probably, all the funds needed at first. If such clubs could be established all over the city they would furnish the opportunities we need to bring all plans of municipal betterment home to the result.

the people.

"How does the plan strike you? Is it feasible?

"I want very much to see you and talk over the winter movements. I shall be glad to bear from you, when you get time, to learn what you are doing and planning for the common good.

"Yours, for God and humanity,

"JOHN M. GREGORY."

President John M. Gregory is still abent from the city, but is expected to return shortly. During his absence he has given the work of the Civic Center for the coming season serious attention and made some excellent suggestions to the chairmen of several of the most important committees. His letter to Rev. Dr. Kent, pastor of the People's Church, the full text of which is given below, will be read with much interest by the public, especially those directly interested in the establishment of a brary and reading rooms. He writes as wives as well as to the husbacets, all under the management of the club itself, aided, perhaps, by a grand central committee from all the clubs, from which they might be supplied with lecturers and various enter-tainments, as also with reading matter.
